

HEAVY-DUTY YET COMFORTABLE HARD-TOP MODEL

XAVANTE X-12 TR

INTRODUCTION OF MODEL X-12TR

Continuing the program of expanding and diversifying its line of products, GURGEL has just introduced its new model, the X-12TR which, together with the established X-12 model, increases the range of versatile utility vehicles able to perform under the toughest conditions.

The X-12TR is designed to meet the conditions of cold and windy regions where a soft-top vehicle can not offer the same conditions of comfort to its passengers especially on the dusty roads.

In addition, a vehicle that can be closed and locked up completely offers security and protection for the articles left inside.

With its clean, good looks and comfort similar to any automobile, the X-12TR will reach a new market of people that wish to own a strong, robust and agile vehicle but that is more resistant due to its extremely strong "PLASTEEL"® bodywork which can not corrode.

The X-12TR therefore, offers the same characteristics as a sedan without losing its qualities as a utility vehicle. Different options are also available including a roof-rack and tow bar for trailers which make it ideal for the camping set.

Like its brother the X-12, the X-12TR carries a spare 20 liter jerry-can giving it a work radius of almost 600 kilometers.

The X-12TR also has the new front axle of the other models for extra heavy duty.

TECHNICAL SPECS: Same as for model X-12, with the exception of the canvas top.
